

Jewels of Indian Classical Music

"Unmistakable touch of a Maestro - Pandit Vikash Maharaj soothes the soul"

- Daily Star, Bangladesh

There is an architectural brilliance behind the music of India. Raga music is at once vibrant, mesmeric, and sublime, to this day. This ancient living art form has one ambition - to profoundly change the performer and the listener at the deepest level.

Pandit Vikash Maharaj and his son, Prabhash Maharaj, play an electric energy of Indian classical music along with classic folk melodies fused with jazz styling. Pandit Vikash Maharaj is an extraordinary Sarod player - one of the best in India - and his son, Prabhash, is a rising Tabla virtuoso. They absolutely delight the audience with their wit, skill and warmth.
